The comments on the program from the Students say they should learn about new tools that are changing very quickly. The students and grads both said that current technology should be taught in a way that will help them in their future studies or jobs. A report was made and put on the committee's agenda for approval.

Here are the things that were done based on what the groups said should be done.

- There was a hands-on workshop
- Program set up for effective teaching methods
- Expert talks are scheduled
